Team Name _____

Teams must provide a team name. Tournament organizers have the right to refuse any team name that is deemed offensive in some manner (e.g. racially, sexually, etc). Tournament organizers who determine a team name is offensive should tell the players involved to select another name. Flagrant disregard for this rule is punishable with an Unsportsmanlike Conduct penalty. The DCI reserves the right to refuse or allow any team names once the tournament results are submitted.

Each member of the team will be designated A, B or C. These designations may not change throughout the course of the tournament (including the finals). Throughout the tournament players will always play against the member of the opposing team with the same designation. Example: The team member designated “A” would always play against the member of the opposing team who’s designation was “A”. DCI Reporter software will follow this pattern. A helpful way to remind players about seating position is to tell them that player B sits in the middle during the draft, player A sits to the right of player B and player C sits to the left of player B.
